

Vertex plots move to Boston waterfront property

Home » Pharma News » Vertex plots move to Boston waterfront property

Friday, January 28th, 2011

Source: Fierce Biotech

Vertex, which is currently based in Cambridge, MA, says it plans to move its headquarters to the Fan Pier district of Boston in 2013. According to Xconomy Boston's mayor offered Vertex tax incentives as he attempts to build an 'innovation district' in the city. The move is dependant upon Vertex receiving FDA approval for its promising hepatitis C drug telaprevir. Report

Read the original here

Vertex plots move to Boston waterfront property

Related Posts:

- Vertex trims a telaprevir study from its slate of hep C work
- Merck scoots past Vertex in blockbuster race for hep C drug approval
- Vertex delivers blockbuster payload of PhIII telaprevir data
- With losses rising, Vertex rolls out its telaprevir app
- Vertex scrambles for quick OK of blockbuster telaprevir app